WESTERN RIVERS AND HARBORS. The Expenditures and Improve-ments Made During the Past Fiscal Year.

Washington, August 3.-Captain Payson, of the corps of engineers, has submitted his annual report on improvement of the rivers and harbors under his charge in California, to General Newton, chief of engineers. The work on the Sacramento and Feather rivers during the past fiscal year has consisted of snagging operations, and has cost $29,525, and $220,511 remain available. The river has greatly improved, but much trouble is apprehended for the present fiscal year, on account of the lack of snow in the past winter. Forty thousand dollars are asked for the next fiscal year. For the improvement of the San Joaquin river $30,-445 were expended during the past fiscal year, $553 remains available, and $40,000 is asked for the next fiscal year. For the improvement of Humboldt bay and harbor $4,958 was expended, $3,541 remains available, and $5,000 is asked for the next year. For the improvement of Mokelmuna river $4,900 was expended during the past fiscal year, $3,541 remains available, and $5,000 is asked for next year. ### An Exciting Sunday Runaway.

Mr. M. R. Evans owns the fastest horse in the city without a record. At about dusk last night he drove with his wife up in front of the Opera House, where she alighted, front of the Opera House, where she aligned, and he' then turned up to a post in front of Clasby & Lowe's to hitch. Somehow the sorrel nag rubbed the bridle back over his head, and then started across Main street to Fifth East at lightning speed. A hundred spectators watched the flying rig until it passed out of sight in front of a cloud of dust. On reaching Fifth East street the unprepagable, and frightened horse ran manageable and frightened horse ran into a telephone pole opposite George T. Wallace's residence, freeing himself from the cart and leaving Mr. Evans stunned senseless underneath the vehicle, which tipped back and pinioned him to the ground. Several ladies came to the rescue, and the unconscious man was taken to the home of unconscious man was taken to the home of Mr. H. W. Spencer, where he shortly came to. The cart is the only thing laid up for repairs. The horse was caught and returned uninjured, while Mr. Evans received a few bruises about his body and had the skin peeled off his nose the size of a postage stamp.

The Romance of a Rose.

In an article on moss roses, Land and Water tells a very curious tale as to the discovery of the variety known as the White Provence, La Blanche, or Unique. Mr. Daniel Grimond, of Little Chelsen, nurseryman, was on a journey of business in the county of Norfolk, exactly 110 years ago, when ridden the county of the road he pering very leisurely along the road he per-ceived a rose of great whiteness in a mill. He alighted, and on close inspection disceived a rose of great whiteness in a mill. He alighted, and on close inspection discovered it to be a Provence rose. He sought an interview with the inmate of the mill, who was an elderly woman, and begged a flower, which was instantly given to him. The old lady must, no doubt, have been considerably surprised at being in turn presented with a guinea. "In cutting off the flower," so runs the tale, which has been recorded by the late Mr. Henry Shailer, of Cattersea Fields, "Mr. Grimond cut three buds, and on arriving at the nearest inn he packed up the flower and sent it directly to Chelsea," addressed to to his foreman, who was no other than the father of the same Mr. Shailer who now relates the story. Two of the buds grew, and in the following autumn the florist went down to Norfolk again and bought the whole stock for five guineas. The foreman was then allowed to propagate it, and for doing so was paid 5s, a plant for three years. At the expiration of that time the plants were sold out at a guinea a piece, the foreman's share of the profits amounting to £300. Not the least pleasant part of this pleasant little "romance of a rose" is the fact that the old lady who had been the unconscious discoverer of a grand secret in horticulture was gratified by receiving out of the proceeds of the undertaking a handsome presgratified by receiving out of the proceeds of the undertaking a handsome present, consisting of a silver tankard and other plate to the value of £60.

SIR Moses Montefiore was indeed "a Jew in whom there was no guile," a man-whom princes delighted to honor. He had more to do with the remarkable change of feeling in England towards his race, which was still suffering from mediaval prejudices when he came into public notice, than any other one man.

Fear That Several Lives May Have Been Lost In the Conflagration.

A Hot Sunday in Toronto. TORONTO, August 3.-A fearfully destructive fire commenced about 12:30 this morning in a large brick building erected by the Toronto Sugar Refining Company, on the esplanade. A strong wind was blowing from the east and carried chunks of the burning timber along the esplanade, igniting the wooden buildings as far west as five or six blocks. In a short time

NOTHING WAS LEFT OF THE SUGAR REFINERY But the walls and the smoke stack. The buildings of Saulter, Evans, Heakes, Gunsell and Abbottson, all boat builders: Reed & Co. and Welch & Co., lumber merchants; Carrie, Martin & Co., boiler makers, and other buildings, are in flames, and unless the wind changes, the whole south side of the wind changes, the whole south side of the esplanade will have to succumb. Sparks are flying and lodging on the roofs of large warehouses on Front and Wellington streets, and fears are entertained that several of them may take fire. The fire brigade are and have been working manfully, but their efforts seem powerless. The streets are lined with thousands of people.

A Hot Day in the Tabernacle-Oratory, Perspiration, and the Same Old Story.

There was a very meagre attendance at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon compared to the gatherings of a year ago. The apparent loss of interest is attributed to many causes. The extremely hot weather now pervading the city has unquestionably forced a great many to pitch their tents outside the walls of Zion, in secure spots beside still waters.

Yesterday the audience was sprinkled with a great many visitors, and it is sel-dom that so large a turnout of babies is seen. It being so very warm the side doors were thrown wide open to admit what little fresh air there was astir. "Ontario" began to tow out the steamer "Mazeppa," but a schooner blocked the way and they could not get out. The "Mazzepa" has caught fire, and all three will have to succumb to the flames. Unless the wind changes the whole south side of the esplanade, as far as Union Station, will undoubtedly perish. Showers of sparks are being carried to the opposite side of the street, and if the buildings there catch fire there is no saying what immense damage will be done. The fire brigade is absolutely powerless.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Salt Lake City, August 8th, 1885.

The citizens of Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Nevada are respectfully vinyited to join with the soldiers and citizens of Salt Lake City in the Memorial Service to General Grant, to be held in Liberty Park, Salt Lake City, Utah, on August 8th, 1885. Arrangements have been made with the Union Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande Western, Utah Central, Salt Lake & Western, and Utah & Nevada Railroads to sell tickets at half rates for that occasion. (See advertisement below.) Bodies of citizens or orders, or organizations coming from our neighboring cities or towns are requested to notify General P. E. Connor, the Marshal of the Day, of their acceptance of this invitation, so they can be assigned their position in column in the line of march to Liberty Park, where the Memorial Services will be held.

Special rates have been asked for from the Central Pacific Railroad and a favorable reply is expected. The Union Pacific will make a rate of one fare for the round trip from Green River on the east, Ketchum on the west, and Tintic on the south, and all intermediate points. Tickets on sale August 6th, good going until and including August 8th, good returning
